Vol. 99, No. 38
Romulus, Mich. 48174

Romulus firefighters had a busy schedule last week when two fires that failed to be extinguished after the first try kept them running back to put out the flames.

The house fire, shown in the photo with the frame on ablaze, erupted Sept. 12 at 5:08 a.m. and again Sept. 13, ironically, at the same time. Located at 29170 Ecorse Road, fire officials are treating the blaze as an arson although the home was abandoned at the time.

Firefighters were called to the scene of another fire on Sept. 9 when responding to a barn fire on Wayne Road. The fire, put out at 3:44 a.m. that morning, was rekindled that afternoon and again the next morning. The consecutive fires left firefighters little time to ponder the strange twist of events.

Khoury faces trial on manslaughter charge

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

A 3-month wait for the repercussions surrounding the shooting death of a 25-year-old man by a Romulus police officer has ended now that the officer has been charged with manslaughter following a 2-day preliminary examination.

Judge James Garber, of the 35th District Court in Plymouth, deliberated for less than 30 minutes before binding James Khoury, 26, over to circuit court on charges of manslaughter and felony firearm Thursday, Sept. 12.

The ruling ended speculation that Khoury would be bound over on the original charge of second-degree murder or whether charges would be dropped against the 2-year member of the Romulus Police Department.

The charges followed the second day of testimony surrounding the June 27 death of James Hester, a Birch Run Apartment resident shot by Khoury in the left temple after Hester's fight with another man.

Khoury was the first officer to arrive at the scene. Hester was shot before other officers could respond to the call by a resident of the complex that a fight was in progress.

Garber, having established, through testimony, that there was probable cause for charging Khoury said it was his "duty to weigh the credibility of the witnesses."

Defense attorney, John Lyons, called for a dismissal of the charges based upon inconsistencies in witness testimonies.

"It would be I suppose easy for the court to suggest it is a question of fact for the jury to decide," Lyons said in his closing statements. "But we believe that there are no facts here."

Garber instead chose to "reject as inherently incredible" certain portions of witness statements while accepting other portions.

Conflicting testimony centered on the distance between Khoury and Hester when the gun was discharged.

Witnesses testified that Khoury shot at point-blank range while a medical examiner's report indicated an 18-24 inch distance.

Also questioned, by the prosecution, was whether Khoury identified himself before discharging his weapon.

Testifying that he had shouted for the men to stop, Khoury said he had acted in self-defense when firing his weapon.

Hester was welding a pocket knife when Khoury approached him. Khoury testified that he thought Hester was attempting to swing the knife at him.

Witness testimony said Khoury failed to identify himself.

Garber examined three areas for justifiable homicide raised throughout the proceedings beginning on August 27 during the first day of preliminary examinations and again during the Sept. 12 exam.

Agreeing with Lyons, who characterized Khoury's actions as a move of self-defense, Garber questioned the circumstances as they "reasonably appeared to (Khoury)" in his response to the fight.

In doing so, he said, he had to examine Khoury's intent, either expressed or inferred, when firing his gun.

In binding him over on charges of manslaughter, Garber rejected the idea of "wanton or willful disregard of the results", qualities that must be present when finding charges for second-degree murder.

By placing the gun near Hester's head, he said, Khoury's actions may have "constituted an 'over-reaction'" as suggested by the prosecution, but did not constitute a willful disregard for the consequences.

"There is an element missing for me to bind over on second-degree murder--there was no expressed or inferred action by (Khoury) exhibited," Garber told the attorneys.

Garber found evidence to charge Khoury with felony firearm, because, he said, it makes "no difference whether or not the person was in lawful possession (of the gun) when the act commenced, only that the person had a firearm in the commission of a felony."

Khoury remains free on bond and is currently suspended from the police force with pay pending the results of the trial.

An Oct. 11 trial date has been set for Wayne County Circuit Court.

The charges leveled against Khoury come at a time when the Hester family is proceeding with a lawsuit filed in circuit court Aug. 9 alleging that Khoury acted without justification and with excessive force when responding to the fight.

The civil suit is separate from the charges filed Thursday against Khoury.

Death puzzles police

Romulus police are still seeking clues to the mysterious death of a 34-year-old Westland woman found dead last week of smoke inhalation in the trunk of her own car.

The death of Patricia Longpre, of the 30000 block of Burlington, has led police to a variety of speculations after her fully-clothed body was found shortly after 10:30 p.m. Sept. 12 in the trunk of her car. The car had been doused with gasoline and ignited, police said.

Sam Chalton, the detective leading the investigation, said Monday that there have been "absolutely no leads, no information" found to verify any hypotheses surrounding Longpre's death.

Police are treating the death as a murder, they said.

Longpre's 4-door Pontiac was found ablaze on Henry Ruff Road, on a one-eighth stretch between Van Born and Merriman roads in Romulus.

A partially-wooded and secluded area, Longpre's car was parked near three homes and a floral shop.

Police were called to the scene when a neighbor notified police that a car was on fire.

Longpre, a one-year employee of a Canton Township K-Mart store, worked in the sporting goods department. She left her part-time job, according to the punched time on her time card, See DEATH Page 3-A Olin Simonds and his wife, Katherine, said Saturday that they did not want to close Bilmar's, the family-owned grocery store but economic reasons led to its demise.

Decade of service ends

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

A tradition ended Saturday when Olin W. Simonds closed the doors of his establishment for the last time.

Citing "economic reasons", Olin, better known to the community as 'Bill' and his wife, Katherine Marie, said goodbye to a decade's worth of customers when checking out the last order at Bilmar's Supermarket on Goddard and Shook roads.

"Romulus has been good to us," Simonds said shortly before the 9 p.m. deadline for shoppers. "I put a lot of blood, sweat and tears into this place."

That may be an understatement, according to comments by an area businessman who is sorry to see Bilmar's, and the Simonds, depart.

"He has been the spark plug for downtown renovation," Ken Whish said. Whish is the owner of Family Pharmacy located on Goddard Road in downtown Romulus.

"Romulus has been good to us . . . I put a lot of blood, sweat and tears into this place."

— Bill Simonds

Simonds, who once held simultaneous presidencies of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club and the Romulus Central Business District Association, leaves behind an undisputed legacy of community spirit and commitment.

He was instrumental, according to Whish, for much of the downtown growth that has taken place within the last 10 years, and can claim responsibility for curb and gutter replacement and scrubbery installation designed to make downtown more attractive to potential business owners and residents.

He was the unfailing motivator behind getting others to take a hard look at the downtown area potential growth, Whish said.

Simonds said he had resigned Thursday, Sept. 12 from his position as president of the CBD association.

He announced the store's closing Sept. 6, after having made the decision to close final the evening before, he said.

Over 40 employees will be effected, some of whom have been with the one-store market since its inception in 1976.

Bilmar's would have been 10-years-old in October.

After the Saturday closing was completed, Simonds said he will seek a buyer for the market and will head for his home in Van Buren Township with his wife and the two children who helped out in the store.

"But I'll be around, I'm not forsaking Romulus," he said. "It was hard to make this decision."

Bilmar's, comparable in size, according to some estimates, to the Danny's Supermarket chain stores, is family-

Woman slain, daughter suspect

By RAY DAY
ANP Staff Writer

A 76-year-old Romulus woman was killed Friday afternoon after being stabbed more than 64 times in her son's Inkster home.

Sisner Aggison, of the 36500 block of Bibbons, Romulus, was found lying near the front door of her son's Colonial Street home in Inkster at approximately 2 p.m. Inkster police have arrested and have in custody the woman's daughter who is believed to be responsible for the attack.

Aggison had left her Romulus apartment on Wednesday to stay with her son, Roy Daniels of Colonial Street. Daniels reports that he last saw his mother alive at noon on Friday.

Daniels had left his house early Friday to run some errands in downtown Detroit. He and a sister were due to return to the location that afternoon to take their mother grocery shopping, according to Inkster police.

Upon arriving at the house, the man found the front door unlocked. Aggison was apparently laying face down by the doorway on top of a pile of mail.

Daniels told police that he noticed that the woman's wrist and neck had been slashed and blood stains covered the woman's body. An autopsy report from the Wayne County Medical Examiner revealed that the woman had sustained more than 64 cuts over her body.

Upon arriving at the scene, police questioned several neighbors in the area for clues into the apparent homicide. Of the few neighbors home, none could provide any information.

The killing was a mystery for only a short time as Novi police called Inkster officials to report that they had in their custody a woman who had reported recently killing a woman in Inkster.

Police officials are unsure as to whether the woman turned herself into the police or to a Novi car dealer, but the woman was arrested and placed into custody. When arriving to transport the woman to Inkster, police officials reported her to be in a state of shock or in a mental state that prevented her from comprehending her Constitutional rights as they were being read to her.

The woman, Elmira Lee, 44, of Avondale, Inkster, was placed under arrest and placed in custody at the Inkster police department. She was later transported to the Wayne County Jail after she attempted to consume her own wastes at the Inkster facility.

Lee was arraigned on one count of second degree murder by Judge John Seiler. The woman stood mute as the judge ordered her to undergo a forensic examination. No bond was set.

A further investigation by police revealed that Lee was recently released from a mental institution and that the woman had a past mental condition. No reason for the attack on her mother or other information into the murder has yet been determined.

Raymond Berch of Belleville just returned from a visit to Japan. He was visiting the country as a representative of Ford Motor Co. Working on a joint project with Mazda Corporation.

Although the two-week stay was primarily for business reasons, Berch was able to do some sightseeing and spent time in Tokyo, Hiroshima and beautiful Miyajima Island to view the mountains, visit the temples and ride the cable cars.

One of the most impressive things about the visit was the friendliness and impeccable manners of the people. Whether visiting a restaurant or shopping in a department store, every member of the staff would thank you for your patronage when you departed. Language was not a problem as English is spoken by a large segment of the population.

Kelly, 15, and Kevin, 11, were anxiously awaiting Dad's return and the gifts they received have made them the envy of all their friends.

Fake air crash draws drama, real responses

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Take an aircrash, some ambulances, dozens of coordinators and emergency personnel and you have a well-prepared plan of action to mitigate the disaster.

That's what Metro Airport officials thought when initiating a second-ever disaster drill in an abandoned runway across from Delta Airline's hangar Wednesday, Sept. 4.

And if the tentative evaluations of the event are any indication, the county passed through the recent simulated

With an aircraft donated by the Nomads, a travel group, looming in the foreground, Metro Airport fire officials ignited a fire in a prepared spot using over 5,000 gallons of jet fuel to simulate a real plane fire. In seconds, acting on cue and with split-second timing, the fire was extinguished with a foam-like substance used in fighting aircraft fires and Operation PADRE began.

Entitled Passenger Aircraft Disaster Response Exercise, a project that involved every police and fire department in the entire Wayne County area, the staged disaster was set into motion by a series of planned events that required the immediate response from the participants.

Preparation for a disaster comes at a time when airline crashes have reached an all-time high and more passengers worldwide have died as a result in 1985 than any other time in air flight history.

More than 100 Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts dotted the playing field set for the drama, recruited especially to act out the parts of disaster victims.

"I've got a broken leg and she's pregnant and in shock," said one 'victim' as she pointed out a young girl standing next to her. "But she won't lie down and pretend that."

Real or not, the play-acting was an integral part of the project, said Mark Sparks, who acted as the county executive chief of staff for the disaster.

"That was the idea," he explained. "To make sure everything was as close to the real thing as possible."

Sparks said Operation PADRE was designed to "iron out the kinks" before a real disaster occurred.

A field hospital, temporary morgue, an emergency operating center and a reception center for victims' relatives were all set up according to plan.

Wayne County Executive William Lucas and emergency management staff officiated the project and assessed the operation while in progress.

"The preparations were made just in case of a man-made or natural disaster that, as we all know, can be unpredictable," Lucas said during a break from the constant surveillance of the EOC room. "We're pleased that everything appears to be going well."

Apparently, the only problems encountered throughout the day lay in the emergency operating center, according to Sparks.

Communications between the radio room and department heads responsible for disseminating information to command officials had some "kinks" but, Sparks said, these were "ironed" out half-way through the exercise.

The entire exercise encompassed local, state and federal agencies and involved over 1,000 people.

Even the Romulus Fire Station got into the drama by setting the stage for the pre-triaged and pre-treated victims (Girl and Boy Scouts).

Wayne, Westland and Detroit fire and police officials either stood by and observed or played a role in the activities.

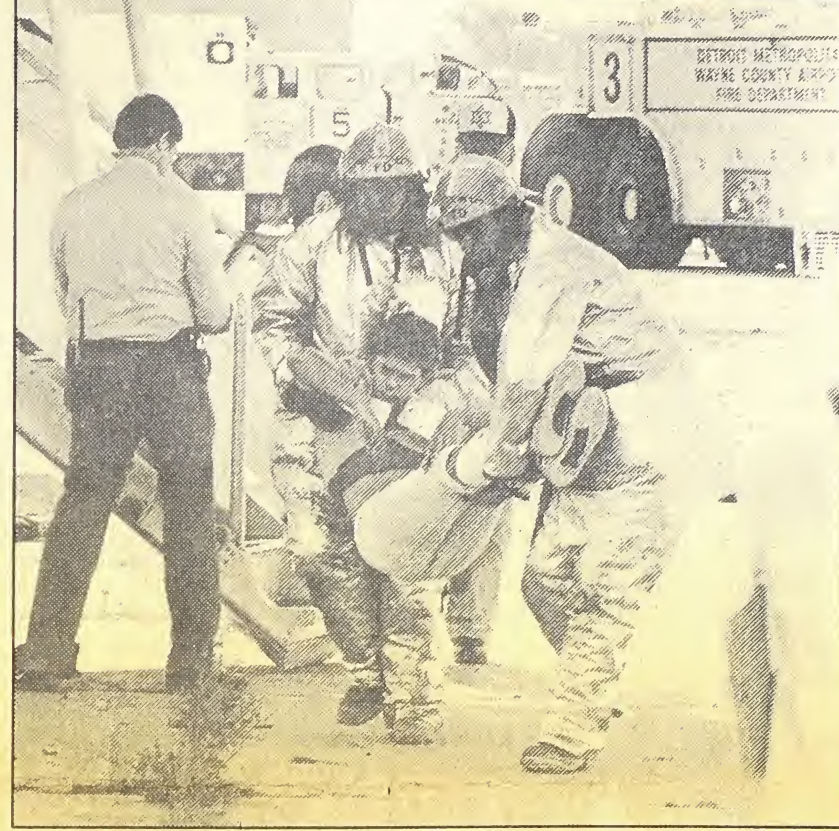

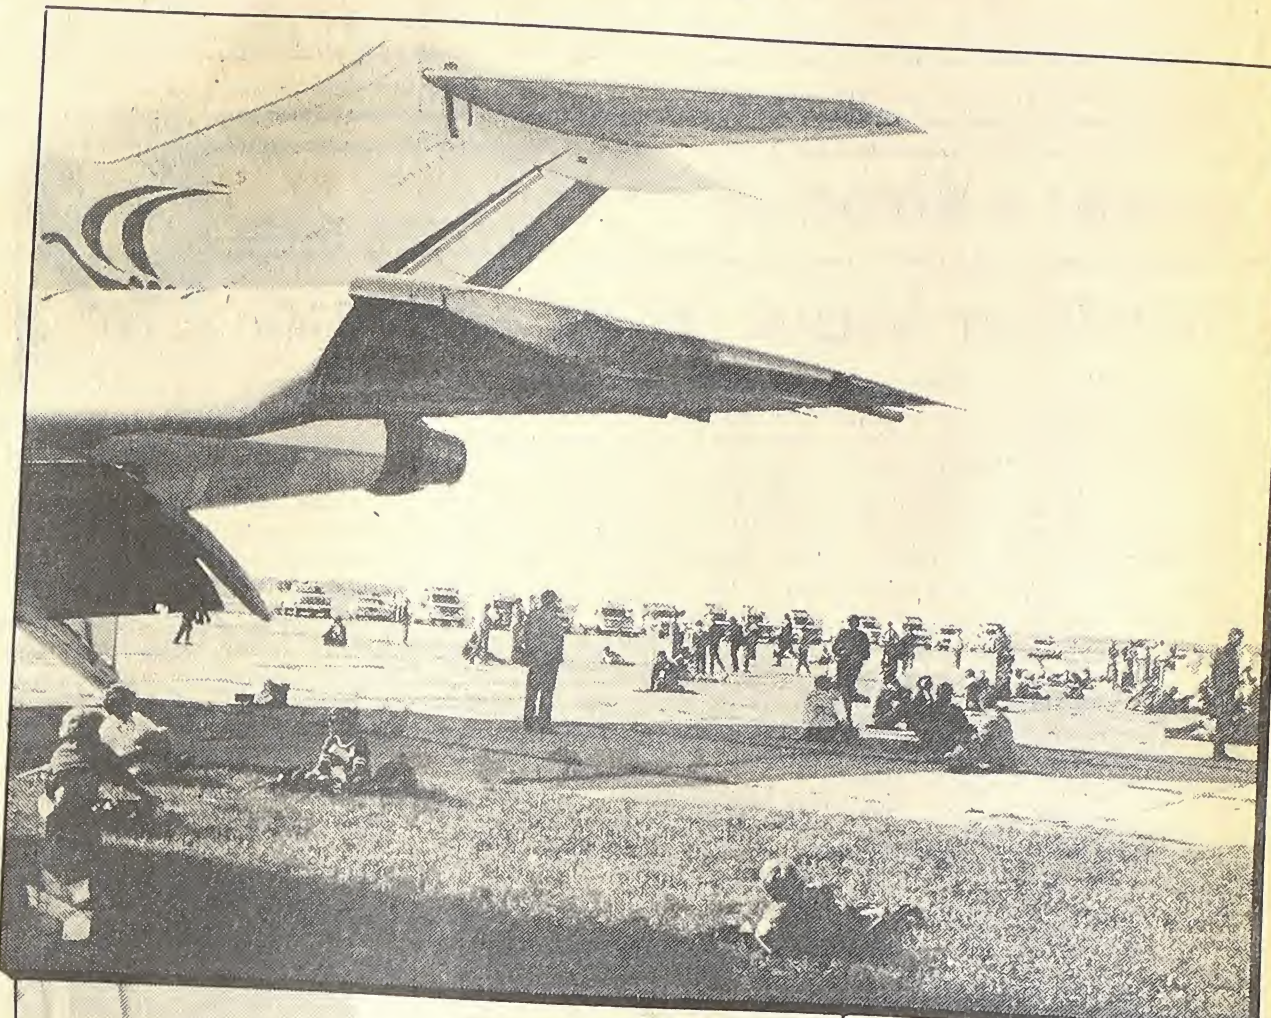

Hundreds of participants, either prepared to treat mock victims or adults and youths stood by ready to spring into action once the fire was extinguished and the actual disaster began.

Fifteen ambulances from various localities waited to transport victims to some 16 hospitals and a helicopter flew overhead to remind everyone that all aspects of transportation would be utilized.

Members of the news media lined the roped-off portion of the field to catch a glimpse of what may have been the best-laid plans ever set forth to ease the effects of a disaster.

Recruited to help evaluate the project, the media was allowed on the actual site of the mock disaster before the exercise began.

Operation PADRE was, according to Sparks and other spokespersons from the county, a real success with no fatalities reported.

Just a test

More than 100 spectators joined the ranks of professionals and amateur actors who participated in the spectacular display of emergency preparedness last week at Metro Airport. County officials sponsored the event, entitled Operation PADRE, to test the skills of police, fire and emergency agencies in the area in the event of an aircrash.

Mock victims, a fuel fire and a plane donated by the Nomads were a part of the scenario that occupied most of the morning and afternoon Wednesday, Sept. 11.

Associated, Willett win writing awards

Associated Newspapers was awarded both a first place and an honorable mention in the 1985 Michigan Press Association Newspaper Contest.

David J. Willett was honored with a first-place award for his weekly column "Flying Solo." His work was selected for this prestigious honor from entries of more than 80 newspapers in Michigan. Judging was performed by members of the Wisconsin Newspaper Association.

The honorable mention award was presented in the local news reporting category for the Associated Newspapers' front page coverage of the I-275 rest stop arrests by state police. Associated was the first newspaper in the state to cover this story and subsequently both the Detroit News and Free Press devoted space to the story, as did all four local television networks.

David Willett

Willett, publisher and president of Associated Newspapers, has been writing "Solo" for nearly two years and has tackled everything from his memories of his family to the human condition in his writing.

"Being honored by your peers is probably the greatest tribute one can receive," Willett said. "I feel especially privileged to have been selected for this award because of the number of fine columnists throughout the state. To have my efforts so recognized, and even considered along with some of theirs, is very flattering."

"I am pleased with the news award, but feel that every member of our news staff should have been honored. I realize that is impossible, but each of them deserves this type of recognition. They are a hard working, dedicated group of professionals who put forth a tremendous effort in serving our subscribers."

"They'd probably each tell you that they taught me everything I know," the publisher concluded with a smile.

Raid closes after-hours bar

By CHRISTINE RIZK
ANP Staff Writer

Police are awaiting analysis of suspected cocaine and marijuana confiscated during a raid on an alleged "blind pig" operation located on Wayne Road in part of an ongoing narcotics crackdown earlier this month.

The raid, conducted at 2:35 a.m. Sept. 7 by 12 Romulus police officers and members of the detective bureau and a Michigan State Police canine unit used for tracking down alleged drugs, netted over $200 in liquor, an undisclosed quantity of suspected drugs, a handgun and a Ford Thunderbird.

Police said 48 persons, including one 15-year-old minor, were found on the premises of the Flame, a self-described "cabaret", located at 6416 Wayne Road. All but the minor were charged with misdemeanors for patronizing an alleged illegal after-hours establishment in which alcoholic beverages were served.

Felony warrants will be issued pending the drug analysis, police said.

Police began the raid after officers observed at least 20 cars in the parking lot of the lounge and a large crowd loitering outside that morning.

Woman's death puzzles police at 9:42 p.m., Chalton said.

What she did after that has puzzled police and family members.

"We're not talking about a long time from the time she left work until she was found," he said.

The distance from Canton to Romulus is 11 miles. Police said that distance by car takes about 25 minutes. That route, they said, is not one that Longpre would normally take if she were heading home to Westland after work.

"We're looking at a very tight time span—between 9:42 and 10:30 p.m.," Chalton explained.

Police are hoping that someone may have seen Longpre somewhere enroute from Canton to Romulus.

Chalton said Monday that a K-Mart employee leaving at the same time as Longpre told police that she had seen her walking to her car in the K-Mart parking lot Thursday night.

So far, police said, that was the last known sighting unless someone else can place Longpre's whereabouts shortly after 9:42 p.m.

The car, which was engulfed in flames by the time the fire department arrived, revealed little evidence, Chalton said.

A small change purse which would have contained money and keys was not found. Longpre, according to police, carried no purse that night.

Interviews with the family and K-Mart employees netted little evidence.

Chalton said that K-Mart

Detectives said that once inside the building, patrons sat back and "relaxed" while waiting their turn to be arrested. Tables were set up at the entrance to accommodate the large crowd police had to interview.

Police said the lounge had been under surveillance for "awhile" and the raid was one of a series being conducted to eliminate narcotics operations in the city.

Those arrested were transported to the Romulus Police Department and were released pending issuance of misdemeanor citations.

A misdemeanor is punishable by a maximum of 90 days in jail and $100 fine.

Bilmar's ends service

owned. It was, in addition to a Ted's IGA grocery on the corner of Eureka and Inkster roads five miles away, the only supermarket in the city.

Simonds said that the last day of business was brisk as customers darted in and out to say their good-byes or do their regular grocery shopping.

"We've had letters from our customers saying they were sorry we were leaving and everything," Katherine Simonds said. "It's just so sad."

She said the family's first customer 10 year ago had promised to come back to be their last customer Saturday evening.

Customer reaction, Simonds said, was "just unbelievable."

There is no doubt, he said, that Romulus needs another grocery store.

"I just hope someone will come in and do a better job," he said reluctantly.

Saying that he felt good about the acceptance he and his family has received in Romulus, Simonds suggested that he wasn't "leaving town, just going out of business."

The store's departure leaves residents of the senior citizen apartment with little recourse than to travel farther to do their shopping.

Simonds said he had received much of the tearful good-byes from residents of Romulus' Senior Tower complex, across from Bilmar's.

Whish said that Simond's opening of Bilmar's in 1976 was a "great service to the community and especially the senior citizens."

"I know he didn't want to close," Whish said. "He is a real vibrant person for this community."

guest editorial

By SHARRON RUSSELL

Another view of apartheid

Sharron Russell

Agreed, much has been written and said about the state of affairs in South Africa. I have voraciously read and absorbed each article in an effort to gain a deeper understanding into the plight of whites as well as blacks in South Africa.

I was most chagrined to read the blatantly biased as well as racist overtones of Mr. Willett's editorial attempt entitled "Tutu, Falwell and Alfie."

Mr. Willett is confused, doesn't know whose espousing to believe. Should he listen to Reverend Desmond Tutu, the black Anglican Johannesburg bishop, a leading opponent of apartheid and 1984 Nobel Peace Prize winner? Or should it be Jerry Falwell, churchman and moral majority leader who suggests Tutu "doesn't represent the views of blacks of that country?"

Willett oozes with tripe, on a subject of enormous magnitude and complexities. All that can come to his mind he says, "is the old movie theme, 'what's it all about Alfie'?"

Since you don't know what it's about Mr. Willett, I'll tell you. It's about rights-HUMAN RIGHTS! It's about 660 blacks killed in a year of unrest against apartheid.

"Apartheid is the official policy of racial segregation promulgated in the republic of South Africa with a view to promoting and maintaining white ascendancy."

It's about a system of racial segregation under which South Africa's five million whites deny the vote and basic rights to 24 million blacks.

Yes, Mr. Willett, in South Africa the rights of black people to be equal under the law does not prevail. They have not been endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The roots of American government reach deep into the past. These roots Mr. Willett, defied laws. Our system did not just spring forth. When the English settled in what was to become the U.S., they cleared the wilderness and fought and killed off Indians to carve out their future.

These colonists were British subjects sent to serve the mother country of England. But, alas with the ascension of King George III, harsh tax and trade policies were implemented. The colonists took strong exception to policies such as "taxation without representation." Resentment and anger were expressed in evasion of the laws, civil disobedience, boycotts and outbreaks such as the Boston Tea Party of 1773 occurred.

Our system of government was founded through the overthrow and submission of the American Indian.

Our revered forefathers were radical revolutionaries who asserted their independence in every sense of the word. Thus evolved the Declaration of Independence.

The blacks of South Africa must assert their independence. They must resist servitude at all cost. And, if necessary they must be willing to fight and die to gain that freedom. The government of South Africa must be willing to give blacks a stake in the future of their country, rather than trying to teargas, beat, bludgeon and shoot them into submission.

Mr. Willett, you say you "resent being deluged with information that still doesn't seem to tell you 'what it's all about.'"

Twenty-four million oppressed people don't tell you what it's about? Six hundred sixty people have died in violence in South Africa in the last year, 160 of them since a state of emergency was imposed July 21. That doesn't tell you what it's about?

Since the firebombing of the medical clinic of Winnie Mandela, wife of Nelson Mandela, 250 miles south of Johannesburg by police there has been no medical care for the area which saw 60-100 patients a week. Does this tell you what it's about?

Recently Senator Howard Metzenbaum D-Ohio presented a $6,000 Check to the Mandela's daughter Zenai Mandela Diamini to help rebuild her mother's clinic on behalf of 14 U.S. senators. Metzenbaum said it was "symbolic of the deep sense of empathy" that Americans have with the South African people. Does this tell you what it's about?

In case you do not know Nelson Mandela is a leader in the battle to end apartheid. A lawyer, who to date has not been accused of any kind of violent act. He has never murdered anyone. He has been in prison for 23 years, because he dared to hope for freedom for his people. Does this tell you what it's about Mr. Willett? South African authorities have rounded up hundreds of school children to break class boycotts. Black store owners have been arrested in an effort to break boycotts by blacks of white-owned businesses. Blacks cannot protest in any form in South Africa Mr. Willett. Does this tell you what it's about?

You say we should "not blindly support radical positions espoused by public figures such as Tutu, Falwell, Jesse Jackson, Coleman Young and so many others." Does that include YOU Mr. Willett?

This is too COMPLEX a problem for you to have reduced it to such a ridiculous trilogy!

I am fully cognizant of the mineral-rich land and the fat cat American interests you seem to side with.

No stone, diamond, mineral or automobile industry-interest should come above the yoke of human oppression.

In 1913, the white government set aside 13 percent of South Africa's land area for black ownership. That is still in effect despite the 73 percent black population.

Since most areas occupied by black lack any job opportunities blacks have flocked to the cities. It's called survival. You would flock to Harlem, Watts or any black ghetto, too, Mr. Willett if it meant your survival!

The South African government has devised a pass system and created segregated townships where inhumane conditions and services discourage blacks from staying. They are poor, down-trodden, oppressed. The fields are their toilet and sugar cane is their tissue. It is a hard life Mr. Willett. No HUMAN BEING OF ANY COLOR should endure such.

Our hearts went out and our pocketbooks opened for the other half of Africa whose people are starving to death from the drought-infested conditions. Perhaps the milk of human kindness will fall on the blacks of South Africa who are starving-starving for the taste of FREEDOM! Does this tell you what it's all about Mr. Willett?

The issue is no longer which economic sanctions or pressures or incentives might move the South African government to soften its heart. The issue is not anti-communism. The issue has become what is within our hearts and what kind of human beings do we choose to be. The status-quo in South Africa cannot be preserved.

You further insult your readers with the implication blacks in South Africa are being killed by their own, because or so you say, "some friends who had lived in South Africa" told you. Who were your friends-President P.W. Botha and Company?

Blacks killed 660 of their own, eh? How absolutely absurd Mr. Willett. To imply such smacks of irresponsible journalism. To date blacks have killed four whites. That's what it's all about Mr. Willett.

"Anyone who would choose Botha over Tutu, would choose Bull Connor over Martin Luther King; would choose Hitler over the Jews; would choose Herod over Jesus and would choose Pharaoh over Moses," said Rev. Jesse Jackson. I couldn't say it more eloquently.

Pooh-pooh to your theory that the Dutch settled first and what resulted as you say is "an economic power that deserved respect and is a force to be reckoned with."

If that's how it should go then America should be returned to the Indian!

Whether the Botha government is ready or not for "values and a way of life that we enjoy" is not a matter for you to play GOD on Mr. Willett. The blacks of South Africa WANT and are READY for their FREEDOM and the RIGHT to SELF-DETERMINATION!

Dust the cobwebs from your mind and release the shackles from your thoughts Mr. Willett and let the blacks of South Africa go.

In the words of President Calvin Coolidge, "If you don't say anything, you won't be called on to repeat it."

Government for the people

The members of the Canton Township Board of Trustees exercised what can only be described as good government in action last week at their regular meeting.

In response to a needed millage for the necessary police and fire protection in the community, members of the board deliberated carefully, listened to the members of the community in the audience and took action which can only benefit all involved. They did this without rancor, argument, anger or hostility - in a spirit of working together to find the best solution to a problem facing each and every member of the municipality.

Canton has recently, and in the recent past, been the scene of political infighting and serious personality conflicts among office holders. The political scandals have included open insults at board meetings, lawsuits and public announcements and denouncements of the conduct of certain past and present officials.

None of that was in evidence as the members of the board took it upon themselves to set a millage rate for taxes for the township at the meeting last week, however. This task was approached in a businesslike and professional manner, with the utmost consideration given both to the taxpayers and to the debts of the township - there was no ego, no oneupsmanship and no personal animosity visible.

Each and every member of the Canton Board of Trustees should be commended for the professional and exemplary manner in which this meeting was handled. Each of them should be applauded by those whom they serve for the job they completed in the establishment of this millage.

In a township racked with political disharmony, it is amazing to see the very tenets of good government at work. Unlike other communities, where the taxpayer and citizen seems to be second or third behind the egos of those in office and the political power plays and machinations occurring - Canton officials epitomized the very essence of the foundations on which our country and our political system are based.

It was a wonder to behold . . . and unfortunate that so many missed it.

Mistaken identity

This is an apology, of sorts.

Last week in an editorial titled "Politics and the press" we described a situation in which we felt one of our reporter's rights and, in fact, our journalistic responsibilities were threatened. In an attempt to protect those who may have been guilty, we were extremely careful to omit names, sexes, political offices and even exact types of civic governments. We ran this item, as we say in the newspaper business, blind.

It caused a lot of trouble and misunderstanding, although it did also do a great deal of good.

First, we'll talk about the good.

The politician in question responded with unerring grace under pressure. The editorial prompted an opening of dialogue and an airing of both sides of the issue. We understand the motivations for the incident, and the politician involved understands our responsibilities. The air has been cleared and we believe that we will now be able to serve the citizens of that community in an even more efficient and productive manner.

A grand old tradition renewed itself in Westland recently with the opening of Frank's Barber Shop at 2728 S. Newburgh, just north of Glenwood. Frank had previously worked with Ed Barry at Glenwood Barbers in Wayne before Ed sold the business last May. Now Frank wants to maintain the institution of a man's barber shop. Three cheers for Frank! Before the days of "unisex" and blowdryers, when a man needed a haircut, he went to the local barber shop on a Saturday and swapped stories with the guys. The cussing and spitting didn't offend anybody. The barbershop was a man's haven, a refuge, a place understood not to be invaded by women. Of course, in those days ladies were perfectly happy to remain in their beauty shops where they could gossip or whatever to their heart's content. The point is this: despite all the legislation about equal rights and discrimination, men still like to gather with men, even if just for a haircut on a Saturday. (Women's libbers may send their hate mail to: Jim Ahrenberg, Chauvinist c/o Associated Newspapers).

On the move ... Leonard Rosenberg, D.O. (formerly of Westland Clinic) announces the grand opening of his new office for the practice of family and general medicine at 8010 N. IN MY OPINION: And the money aggregates continue to grow ... and grow ... and grow! And we skip merrily down "the yellow brick road." The banking system can only hold a finite amount of "non-productive" money reserves. All reserves beyond a banks minimum immediate needs, must be deployed; efficiently ... or inefficiently! To bring the "money multiplier" down to a reasonable base-line, it may be necessary for banks to lower borrower requirements.

For this week, the short-term traders may start the session with some carry-over optimism from Friday's technical rebound, but this optimism will be short-lived as sellers take control of the session. Intermediate term traders will open the session as sellers, and get bolder as we progress through the session. Long-term traders have been buying in the "bargain basement" and will continue to hold these positions.

For this week, early session buying enthusiasm will rapidly give way to selling pressure. A major market sell-off may be averted by confusion among institutions. With increasing inflationary expectations, possible rising interest rates, falling stock prices and an inability to buy secondary issues "in size," their only alternative will be to do nothing, which will add some support to the market.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitoi and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitoi so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitoi is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss! Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitoi (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitoi direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitoi is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

Best of all, ordering Amitoi is simple, fast, and reliable! Simply call Dyna Labs Toll Free: (1-800-441-5454) Ext. 911, and order with your credit card. If you don't have a credit card Dyna Labs will also accept C.O.D. orders right over the phone! All orders are shipped immediately by UPS, which means no delay and no orders lost in the mail!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Operators are standing by and will be glad to take your order. You can order 24 hrs. a day, 7 days a week! Please don't wait to call. You really do deserve to be thin!

Chargers are for real

Churchill clips Salem in OT, 23-20

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Off to their best start in recent years, Livonia Churchill fans will know if Coach Herb Osterland's Chargers are for real when they run up against a tough Northville team Friday night in Northville.

Churchill is coming off of an impressive overtime victory over Plymouth Salem which was decided by Jim Naif's 19-yard field goal in the extra period that sealed a 23-20 victory over the Rocks for the Livonians. It was Churchill's second straight win, while Salem has failed to find the victory column in its two outings.

Looking ahead, Osterland sees an "excellent game with Northville."

"They (Northville) always club a hard-hitting, excellent field," noted Osterland. "I heard they lost three starters to injuries, but they still have a good core of players."

Salem drew first blood in last Friday's Western Lakes Conference match-up against Churchill. The Rocks got on the scoreboard in the opening quarter when running back Brian Pillar caught the Char-

Rock 24-yard line. A pass completion from Irvine to Matt Robertson accounted for 12 of those 24 yards and rushes by Naif moved the Chargers inside the 5.

Churchill took the lead late in

"... I felt that our kids played well under the pressure, especially at the goal line. We have some strong and weak points to consider."

— Coach Osterland

ger defense napping and scooted 54 yards into the end zone. Brian Storm's kick for the extra point was good, and Salem had a 7-0 edge.

But Churchill's offense, led by quarterback John Irvine and Naif, settled down and went to work. Naif came back with a 2-yard TD run early in the second quarter which was set up by a Salem fumble at the the second quarter when Joe Payne stripped the Salem QB, John Storm, of the ball and raced 7-yards for the TD. Naif added his second PAT, lifting the Chargers to a 14-6 lead.

The Chargers appeared to have the game sealed and delivered when they increased their margin to 20-7 in the third quarter thanks to Naif's 2-yard TD plunge after Irvine and Andy Oliver teamed up for a 30-yard pass completion. Naif failed to get an opportunity for his third straight PAT due to a mixup on the snap from center.

Salem refused to quit, however. Coach Tom Moshimer's Rocks came back with a 12-yard touchdown thanks to fullback Rob Adams who set up his own TD with a 40-yard off-tackle sprint. Storm made good on the conversion, making it a 20-14 game, entering the final period. Jerry Sumner's TD from the one-yard line tied the game with less than five minutes remaining and Payne stopped the Rocks' bid for the lead when he rushed in and blocked the point-after attempt, forcing the issue to an overtime.

In the overtime, the Charger defense held, but Salem, after giving up five crucial yards, saw their bid for their first victory dissipate when Naif booted the ball through the up-rights for the field goal.

Not this time

Livonia Churchill QB John Irvine doesn't have the time or luxury to find his receivers on this play as the rush is on by the Plymouth Salem defense. But Irvine managed to lead the Charger to a key victory and set the stage for Friday's league opener with Northville. The Chargers are undefeated in their two starts, while Salem is still looking after two losses.

Rockets launch new league with perfect 2-0 record

Glenn shuts out Pontiac Central, 23-0, for second victory

By KEITH A. DEMOLAY
ANP Staff Writer

A few years ago, the motto of the Westland John Glenn High School football team was, "Big Team, Little Me."

Last Friday night, those four words never met more as 39 members of the 1985 Rockets squad banded together and defeated a gamed Pontiac Central team, 23-0.

"It was a good win because it came against a team with very talented athletes," said Glenn's Chuck Gordon. "Hopefully, moving the ball the way we did was a good sign."

Glenn entered the game with one victory under its belts, a 35-6 win over Belleville, and was looking to stretch its early season record to 2-0, while the Pontiac Chiefs were playing their first game in a season delayed by a labor dispute between the teachers and school board the week before.

Team-work paid off early as the Rockets grabbed the opening kickoff and marched down the field to paydirt. Led by the offensive line of Paul Pomorski, Tim Hardin, Todd Cobb, Don Croft, Steve Murray, and Rick Hassen, Tony Boles took the ball on six straight carries to the Pontiac's 44-yard line.

Then, quarterback Steve Irwin took the snap from center, stepped back, and fired a pass to Chuck Hammontree, who caught it at the six-yard line.

Three plays later, Boles was in the end zone and with Tony Svaluto's PAT, Glenn led 7-0.

Then the Glenn defense took over and it certainly had its hands full all night with speedy quarterback Brian Wright, fullback Carl McClendon, and tailback Kone Bauman. But the Rocket defense rose to the occasion on the first series of downs, giving them only 10 yards in four plays.

"Our defense has really played well," Gordon commented. "The defense hasn't been scored on yet and one of the keys you need to be successful is a good defense. Thus far we have had that."

It wasn't until the second quarter when excitement abounded for the Chiefs when Wright ran a fake around right end and cruised into the end zone, 64 yards away. But as the Central crowd celebrated a penalty negating the touchdown.

Wayne, Coach Howton sustain first setback

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial let Ann Arbor Huron slip through its fingers Friday night, and first year coach Chuck Howton believes the Zebras have no one to blame but themselves.

"We let them get away," said Howton after Wayne's first setback of the 1985 campaign. "It hurts to say that, but it's true. We had so many opportunities to stack this one away that it isn't funny."

Wayne did have numerous chances to reverse the 23-19 decision in its favor, but just couldn't capitalize on Huron's mistakes. The Zebras had penetrated within Huron's 10-yard line on at least three separate occasions but couldn't find the right combinations for the score.

In a game that was switched at the last minutes from Wayne High to Westland John Glenn's field due to lighting problems, Wayne grabbed the lead early when quarterback Doug Quartuccio booted a 32-yard field goal after the Zebra offense got bogged down deep in Huron territory. In that initial series after the kick-off, fullback Juan Hearn established himself as a ballcarrier. Unfortunately, Hearn was lost to Wayne early as he twisted his ankle in the next Wayne series and was forced to the sidelines for the evening.

"His injury forced us also to switch a guard into the offensive backfield," pointed out Howton, referring to Doug Warner's quick change of roles. "The move obviously had ramifications in our strategy."

Hearn, a senior, and groomed as one of the top ball-carriers in the Wolverine A, will be ready for Friday's encounter with Lincoln Park. The game will bring the curtains up on the conference season.

Apparently lifted by the departure of Hearn, Ann Arbor struck for two second quarter touchdowns and led 14-3 before the Zebras came back with a 30-yard touchdown pass from Quartuccio to Kelly Claxton.

With the score now 14-9, the Zebras tried for two and failed.

The River Rats came back from intermission and quickly widened the margin, striking for a 2-yard TD thanks to Todd Miller. That gave the non-conference visitors a 20-9 edge.

However, Wayne didn't buckle

Opp wins Huron CC Invitational

Versatile Westland John Glenn athlete, Karen Opp, captured her first major cross country invitational title of the season as she toured the 3.1 mile course in an impressive 19.46.9 to finish first at the New Boston Huron Invitational.

Opp's performance provided Coach Dick Gordon's Rockets with an over-all fourth place finish in a field that included some 25 area teams.

Chelsea, with 35 points, wound up with the team championship, while Monroe was second (56), followed by Dearborn (100) and John Glenn (125).

Gordon, who successfully served as the track & field coach at Cherry Hill before that school district decided to disband and join Wayne-Westland schools, is in his first year as head coach at Glenn. He replaced Ed Phillips.

"I believe our girls' team would have finished even better if we had our No. 3 runner, who was ill, in the lineup," Gordon said. "I feel we have an ex-

Wayne to host Lincoln Park in league

and replied with a touchdown of its own as Darren Tatum broke off tackle and raced into the end zone from the 4, bringing the Zebras within four of catching up.

Later in the fourth quarter, Quartuccio engineered a drive that took the Zebras to the Huron 5-yard line and with a first down and five to go, it looked like Wayne had a golden chance to making it 2-0. But a penalty and a stubborn Huron defense stopped the local grid-ders. Later, Huron and Wayne exchanged field goals with Quartuccio kicking one over from the 23.

Tatum continued to lead

Wayne rushers, chalking up 164 yards in 31 carriers for a total of 298 yards for his two game total. The Zebras had the ball for 65 plays as compared to Huron's 39.
The scouting reports on Lincoln Park reveal that the Rail-splitters have a team and a quarterback that likes to run the option and "We're going to have to stop them in their game if we are to win," says Howton.

Wayne Memorial football fans are urged to contact the school on Friday for informa-tion on where the game will be played. If the lights are fixed, the contest will be held at 7:30 p.m. If not, the game will sche-duled for the afternoon.

Glenn rolls past Pontiac Central for its second victory

"They're the fastest team we'll play all year," Gordon offered. "We had tremendous defense and took it (the speed) away from them."
Glenn then took over the ball and used all 53 yards to score again as Boles gained 33 yards on the drive. Irwin completed a 5-yard pass to Hammontree (he finished with three catches for 61 yards on the evening) and finished off the drive with a 7-yarder to tight end Rick Hassen, his second touchdown catch of the young season. With Svaluto's extra point, Glenn led, 14-0, at the half.

The key to this game was Glenn's control of the ball. Even when they didn't score, the Rockets were able to keep Pontiac's offense off the field.
"The keys to controlling the ball," Gordon said, "was the offensive line opening things up for Boles and Byrd and Irwin's passing. The fact that we didn't have a turnover lent itself to controlling it also."

Finally, Glenn got a chance to score in the middle of the third period. Again, team effort was superb as fullback Dave Byrd, playing the position for the first time in an un-familiar spot and subbing for the injured Paul Beasley, pick-ed up 12 yards for a first down, then Irwin completed an 18-yard pass to Hammontree in-side the 10-yard line.
But the Pontiac Central de-fense stiffened and held Glenn at the six-yard line. In came Svaluto, who booted a 23-yard field goal for a 17-0 Rocket margin.

Early in the fourth quarter, Glenn got the ball back and put the game on ice. On the first play, Irwin, who completed 5 of 12 passes for 82 yards on the evening, fired a pass to Ham-montree that covered 21 yards. Glenn sat on the 15-yard line, and proceeded to take it in as first Boles ran for 4 yards, then Byrd ran for 2 and Irwin for 2 more before Byrd capped his day with a three-yard run for the score.

"Byrd stepped in and helped us when we needed it most," Gordon said. "Despite limited practice time, he did a heck of a job for us."
Glenn led 23-0, ironically the same score as last year's con-test, and it was then up to the defense to preserve the shut-out. That they did as Tod Quat-lander picked off two passes to go along with the one that Doug Strehl had at the end of the first half.
Now it's home and Farming-ton Friday night when the Rockets' launch its first West-ern Lakes Activities Associa-tion game. The Falcons are a team that "it is important to beat because it is the first con-ference game. With that in mind, we'll be ready," Gordon vowed.

The Junior Varsity also im-proved its record to 2-0 with a 28-6 victory over Pontiac Central. The Rockets were led on defense by Derek Strehl and Bill Piepsney and Ken Jones accounted for 155 yards.

Romulus defense can't stop Allen Park Cabrini

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer
Despite an improving effort from its offense, Romulus High's defense was no match for a tough Allen Park Cabrini Saturday night and the Eagles suffered their second straight football defeat, 21-8.

Coach Norb Glover's Eagles travel to Redford Union Friday night in hopes of snapping their 2-game losing streak. Glover, encouraged by the marked im-provement in the offense, noted that "if we continue to im-prove, we'll win our share of games this season."

Glover stressed that this year's line-up contained a lot "of young and inexperienced players."

cellent team.
Glenn's men's team, 10th place finishers at Huron, launched the dual meet season last week by beating cross-district rival, Wayne Memorial, 24-34. Ron Tolson, younger brother of Wayne's former All-American runner, Doug, led Wayne and the field with a 16.53 finish. He beat Glenn's Dan Liedel to the finish line. Liedel was clocked in 17:34.
Other Glenn finishers included Scott Whiteman (fourth), Sam Has-san (fifth), Kyle Szu-kaitis (sixth), and Mark Bloomfield (seventh). Other Wayne scorers in-cluded Scott Ebling (third), Greg Smith (ninth), Scott Peterson (10th), and Charlie Vander-vennet.

In the meantime, Jess Shough who has been assigned the re-sponsibility of field-ing Cherry Hill's last cross country team saw his Spar-tans destroy out-of-conference rivals, Livonia Clarencevil-le, 18-37, last week. The Spartans re-ceived a superb effort from Bubba Zirker who finished first in the rain and mud. He led team-mates Rick Far-ley (second), Kurt Lindemann (fourth), Pete Wetzel (fifth) and Dan Decker (sixth) across the fin-ish line.
The Spartans had only three girls fin-ish the meet with Tracie Palmer, 17th, followed by Carin Mulrooney (19th) and Danielle Ed-wards, 20th.
The Spartans are 1-1 on the year after losing to Garden City in their season debut.

"We have a lot of young and inexperi-enced runners this year because of the changeover," said Coach Shough. "However, review-ing the results of the Huron Invitational, our team placed ahead of any of those from our league, therefore, that's something positive and we look forward to the league meet."
Zirker finished sixth at Huron, with a 16:48. Winning the boys' division was Monroe's Todd Wil-liams who was clocked in 15:59.
Cherry Hill also received a 51 place finish from Farley who was trailed across the finish line by teammates Wet-zel (98), Decker (101), and Eric Bush (120).

Belleville blanked by Trenton

Don't give up on the Belleville Tigers yet. That's the word from head coach Pete O'Neill who says that his club may have had its problems during the first two games, but it will be competitive the rest of the way.
O'Neill points out that the Tigers lost to two state-ranked teams during the first two weeks, (Westland John Glenn and Trenton) and "we're going to be very competitive the next few weeks."
Belleville will attempt to put the brakes on its 0-2 start Friday night when they host Monroe. The Trojans also have failed to find the winning column in their first two starts.
Trenton outclassed Belleville last week although the 34-6 score is deceptive. Trenton scored 7 points in the first quarter and added two TDs in the second, leaving the gridiron at halftime with what appeared to be a comfortable 19-0 lead. However, the Tigers came back and dominated the third stanza in what O'Neill labeled as "the best football I have seen any of my teams play. They showed their potential in that period."
The Tigers got on the scoreboard mid-way in that period when Dennis Montie went over the Trojan goal line on a 15-yard run. The TD was set by a 51-yard pass play which saw quarterback Jim Utt teaming up with wingback Greg Hardmon. An Utt to Darrell Elder pass accounted for the two point conversion.

Clear the way

Salem's Brian Piller (23) is being chased down by the Churchill defense, but the Rock ballcarrier managed to come up with a TD to keep Salem alive. An overtime was needed to decide this rivalry as Jim Naif booted a field goal to lift the Chargers to their second win, 23-20.

Eagles are still looking for win

"If they jell and things come together, we'd do fine."

Cabrini built up a 21-0 lead before Romulus managed to get on the scoreboard with a fourth quarter touchdown. That TD was scored via the air waves when quarterback Luther Shannon fired a 50-yarder into the end zone and the ball was deflected off of Jerry Whitehill into the waiting hands of Victor Hicks.

The Eagles scored the 2-point conversion also on a pass play with Cory Chandler tossing the ball to Whitehill. That left a mere three minutes in the game and not enough time to erase the deficit.

The damage occurred earlier to Romulus when Allen Park, leading 7-0 with about three minutes to go before the intermission, blocked a would-be Eagle punt. The ball was recovered inside the Romulus 15 and Cabrini scored, giving them a 14-0 edge at halftime.

Romulus received a solid effort from running back John Morris who chalked up 74 yards, while Shannon also connected on six of eight aerials with one interception for an additional 115 yards. Anthony Russell, a split end, accounted for 40 of those yards in receptions.

'Lucky one'

Robichaud steals victory from Richmond

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Lady Luck definitely was standing on Robichaud's sidelines Friday at Richmond. And it was definitely a Friday, the 13th day for the hosts.

Even coach Bob Yauck will admit he "was lucky to win this one."

"This one" was a 12-9 triumph over the host, giving the Dearborn Heights gridders a perfect 2-0 non-conference record going into Friday afternoon's Suburban Athletic Conference confrontation at River Rouge.

First let's discuss Rouge, then we'll return to Friday the 13th.

"Rouge has all the tools to put points on the board," cautioned Yauck who stressed that "to beat them we're going to have to stop their passing game and contain their outside game." And, of course, keep luck on the Bulldog side.

How else can one explain that last minute Robichaud TD at Richmond which turned the tide? With 47 seconds left in the game, Clinton McDaniels blocked a Richmond punt and Rodney Mitchell swooped it up in midair and raced 45 yards into the enemy's end zone for the game-winner.

"It was nothing short of a miracle," Yauck said. "And it was the worst offensive performance of any of my teams during the last seven years. We fumbled, had passes intercepted and managed to survive, again thanks to our defense which hung in there until the end."

Richmond led 7-0 at the half-way mark, but the visitors narrowed the gap to one point when Bernardo Carter capped a short drive in the third period with a six-yard TD sprint. Richmond came back with a safety midway in the fourth period, turning it into a 9-6 game and that's the way it stood until the last minute when McDaniels provided the heroics that saved the day.

Carter also turned in a strong game at linebacker and safety Gordon McDuffie along with freshman tackle Dennis Robertson, who had five solos and four assists, were outstanding. Donald Mandell, the Bulldogs' outside linebacker, accounted for several excellent hits.

Offense explodes

Inkster is right on target for Oak Park

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Winless Highland Park, the pre-season Suburban Athletic Conference title favorite, will invade Inkster Friday afternoon to test Coach A.C. James' revitalized Vikings.

The Vikings buried Oak Park 34-8 in their tune-up for Friday's encounter against the defending SAC champ. But, though the Parkers have failed to win in their two non-league contests, Coach James says "the champs are the team to beat."

"In order to even stay with them," James continued, "we got to block like we have never blocked before, and we can't keep making what I like to call freshmen mistakes. Highland Park is a big Class A school and they have been picked to repeat in this league."

Inkster handled Oak Park with ease as Anthony Anderson scored the Vikings first quarter TD when he scooped up a fumble and ran it back for the six-pointer. The Vikings never looked back after that one.

Then, quarterback William Knox teamed up with Sean Hayes on a 37-yard strike and he also hit Angelo Taylor for a 18-yard TD pass. Taylor also provided the 2-point conversion thanks to a pass from Knox, lifting the Vikings to a 20-6 half-time lead.

Knox also scored on a 2-yard sneak, set up by Marvin Brewer's 80-yard kickoff return. Hayes hauled in a 21-yard TD pass from Knox to account for the final Viking score.

Knox was exceptional as he connected on six of 12 passes for 90 yards and three touchdowns while Hayes led the rushers with 11 carries for 105 yards.

"I saw some improvement," said James who figured his team should be 2-0 instead of 1-1 going into the week. The Vikings blew their first game to Battle Creek Penfield in the closing seconds.

dan's dogs

by dan a. morris

Editor's note: Dan Morris has been a professional dog handler for more than 20 years and has worked in all phases of dog training. If you have a specific problem, his advice is available by writing him care of Associated Newspapers Inc., P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Michigan 48184. He will reply in this column.

I was asked the question recently, "If I find my dog a 'wife,' will he then get 'it' out of his system and stop raping arms, legs, chairs, etc.?"

The answer is an emphatic NO! We must be logical about this. The minute Romeo discovers the pleasures of Juliet, down the street, or even an "arranged" marriage, he will only be more anxious to go out on the town again.

An over-sexed male dog is not only uncomfortable to be around, but when he is in this mood, he can become aggressive and not easy to control. Your veterinarian can explain the overabundance of male hormones, etc., but he, too, will recommend the only solution: neuter the dog.

Neutering the dog is not expensive, causes minor (if any) discomfort to the dog and will absolutely not turn him into his feminine counterpart. In the long run, the neutered dog, as well as the spayed female, can live a longer, healthy life, not prone any longer to prostate or ovarian cancers.

After being neutered, the hormonal change takes approximately six months. By the end of that time, you should see a marked difference in your dog. He should begin to behave more calmly and will choose to chase a ball, chew his nylabone or watch TV, instead of mounting everything in sight. It will now be safe to invite company over. Your reputation will be salvaged. Friends and relatives will no longer avoid your home.

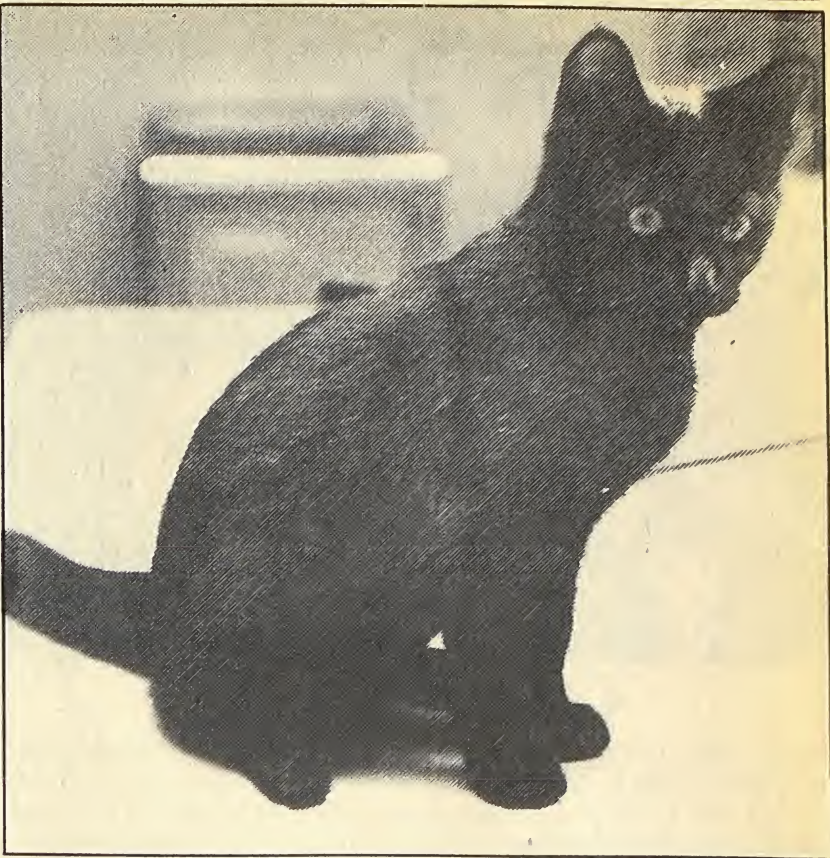

Female dogs who have been bred previously are not immune to the urges of nature and many times make life unbearable for male dogs nearby or in the home when she comes into season. She may become an outrageous flirt, positioning herself around the male and tormenting him mercilessly. Spaying the female will help her behave in a more ladylike manner and, as stated earlier, will keep her healthy for a longer life with you.

Prize pizzas

Our judges included Jim Lyons of the Tin Lizzie restaurant in Belleville — he qualified as an expert as he has made many a pizza in his day and offers it on the menu at his Belleville eatery. (And, no, we did not allow him to enter his own creation!)

Greg Reid, owner of Greg's Emergency Room in Westland — also a pizza maker from way back, also agreed to aid in the judging. Greg, too, was prohibited from entering his own culinary creation, much to his chagrin.

Chefs John McLaughlin and Jim Fornell, both of the Wayne County Community College Culinary Arts program were also kind enough to offer their educated palates to judge the pizzas. Both graduate chefs with extremely impressive credentials, they would be enough to intimidate any cook.

Also on hand was Dr. Dean M. Krauskopf, a horticulture agent with the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service who was delegated to perform the judging tasks, he explained, strictly on the basis of his love of pizza . . . and beer.

Jon Gary of the Ford Vocational-Technical Center brought along his own assistant taster, his 3-year-old daughter, Kaarina.

And last, but certainly not least, was celebrity Chef Larry Janes, usually seen tempting John and Marilyn with some delicacy on 'Good Morning America' or 'Good Afternoon, Detroit'. Janes is also a featured columnist with Associated Newspapers and recently challenged publisher David J. Willett to a weight loss contest. Thanks to the pizza eating, it would appear Willett is winning the battle of the bulges.

A special thanks, too, to Star Manufacturers and Bob Beeny who loaned us several Pipin Pizza Pouches — an insulated pizza container specifically designed for keeping pizza hot during delivery. (They really work great, Bob!)

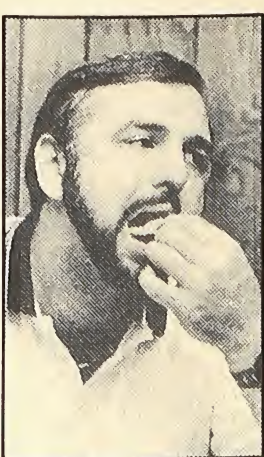

BEE JAY'S PIZZA WAYNE
Our judges didn't care too well for Bee-Jay's, and thought his offering was only "fair." Chef McLaughlin particularly noticed that the mozzarella cheese was the only cheese used and felt it was greasy. Chef Fornell agreed and thought that the crust was doughy and that the cheese too bland — "no excitement" he said. Chef Larry agreed, noting that, "if it weren't for the pepperoni, I wouldn't have known it was pizza." Jim Lyons, however, thought the pizza, while a little doughy, was fair. Greg Reid, too, thought that while it was, "a little greasy, it's fair."

Glenn sets marching band revue

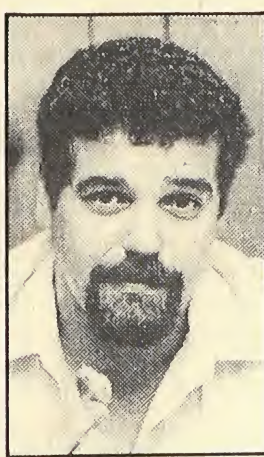

The John Glenn High School Band and Boosters are putting the finishing touches of their Half Time Revue, and exhibition of marching bands from 10 high schools throughout southeastern Michigan.

The revue will be held at the high school football field, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 25. Participating will be marching bands from as close as Wayne Memorial High School in Wayne to as far away as Ida and Howell. Also in the program will be marching bands from Garden City, Romulus, Dearborn, Lamphear-Milford, Lakeland and Brighton.

Admission to the revue will be $2 for adults and $1 for students and senior citizens. The program is open to the public, and tickets can be purchased at the stadium the night of the performance.

JOHN MCLAUGHLIN

CHEF LARRY JANES

PIZZA BARN ROMULUS

Jon Gary found this to be more to his liking — and to his daughter's, and he especially liked the flavorful sauce. Chef Larry Janes agreed. He found this to be a very good pizza with a good blend of spices, great sauce and a good taste.

Dean Krauskopf was also impressed with this offering although he found it to be a little greasy. "I liked the sauce, I liked the pepperoni — I rate this one, good to very good," he said.

He wasn't alone. Chef Jim Fornell also thought the sauce was flavorful and the quality of the pizza good. Chef McLaughlin thought the quality was much improved from other pizzas entered but also felt that the crust of this offering was not quite what it could be to be excellent.

Greg Reid liked the flavor, thought the ingredients were evenly distributed and that the sauce was the key to the good taste of this offering. Jim Lyons gave this an 8 on a 1-10 scale and noted that he felt that everything about it was pretty good.

DOMINO'S

Jon Gary, now a certified pizza gourmet, felt that the sauce in this pizza tasted "canned." He dubbed the pizza mediocre — while Chef Larry Janes was even more critical. "This," he declared, "should be used for a Frisbee at the beach."

Dean Krauskopf also found this to be flat and a mediocre effort, and Chef Fornell agreed. Chef McLaughlin agreed and thought that the dough was raw and made ahead of time. "I'd be polite to say this was poor," the chef said.

PIZZUTI'S WAYNE

Jim Lyons thought there might be some degree of prejudice here as this pizza was still warm. Assured that it was not brought in late or as a "ringer" he explained that he thought this was the best he had tasted. "It has a good blend — of all of them, I'd give this a nine," he said.

Greg Reid thought this was a good pizza, too. "I thought there was too much dough — but it's a good blend of sauce and cheese."

Chef John McLaughlin disagreed — "I liked the dough, it rose nicely. But I don't like the sauce and I don't like the cheese," he said. "I'd rate this one good to fair."

Chef Jim Fornell said that he had taken three bites — "it started slow and got worse. All I tasted was garlic," he added.

Dean Krauskopf agreed — "the only spice they used was garlic and even the pepperoni couldn't stand up to it," he said.

GINO'S WAYNE

Jim Lyons gave this a 7 on his 1 to 10 scale and thought the sauce was good. Greg Reid, however, thought the dough was too dominating but still gave the pizza a good rating.

Chef McLaughlin liked the blending of the cheeses in this pizza but felt the dough was too heavy — "It's a fair pizza."

Chef Fornell liked the dough, however, even if there was a little too much of it. "It has a good flavor, the sauce is okay and the cheese is good," he said.

Larry Janes, however, disagreed with the other chefs and found this pizza, "DULL — Mediocre at best!" And Jon Gary agreed with Janes — "the ratio of crust to stuff is too great — I like more stuff," Gary said.

LITTLE CAESARS

Jon Gary liked this pizza and commented that the texture of the dough was better — "like a shallow deep dish," but found not as much flavor as he would like. Chef Larry Janes liked the dough, found the sauce plain and characterized the pepperoni as dull. "Nope, I wouldn't buy one," he said.

Dean Krauskopf didn't like this pizza, either. "It's flat, no spices," he suggested.

Jim Fornell didn't like the dough, but thought the cheese was nice "to say the least." His fellow chef John McLaughlin disagreed with everyone on this pizza, however. "I really felt it had potential. This could be an excellent pizza but it is ill prepared," he said. "It's undercooked, for one thing, but the ingredients are of good quality."

Greg Reid also like this pizza although he felt that he lost the taste of the sauce between the cheese and the dough while Jim-Lyons felt it was "just fair" and not an outstanding effort.

Conclusions? Well, each of our judges liked a different pizza for different reasons and they never unanimously agreed on any one quality. Which only proves one thing — when it comes to pizza, what you like is what counts. If further proof is needed, note that every morsel

MAY THE BEST PIZZA WIN!

Where's the best pizza in town? Who has the freshest sauce, the tenderest crust, the best blend of cheeses? These urgent questions and more were put to a panel of real experts last week as seven of the most experienced pizza connoisseurs in the area gathered to offer their expert opinions regarding one of the staples of the American diet.

Dougherty - Keyandwy exchange nuptial vows

Trinity Episcopal Church in Belleville was the setting for the early spring nuptial of Francie Lyn Dougherty and Ronald D. Keyandwy.

The bride is the daughter of Frank and Gloria Dougherty of Belleville, while the groom is the son of Donald and Jan Keyandwy of Westland and Dennis and Betty Cogan of Milford.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of Queen Anne's lace with layered overskirts for the ceremony. The long sleeves featured wrist points, and the high neckline accented a hand-sewn pearl bodice. Her cathedral train formed a bustle at the back of the gown.

Her fingertip veil was held in place by a fitted lace headpiece, accented with hand-sewn pearls. Her bouquet was of rose, pink and white silk flowers.

The bride asked Terrie McDaniel of Belleville, a friend, to serve as her maid of honor. She wore a rose satin floor-length gown in the Southern Belle style, with a hooped skirt and scalloped ruffles at the hemline. The gown featured a fitted bodice and off-the-shoulder ruffles. Her flowers were a blend of rose and pink silk flowers.

Serving as bridesmaids were Kelly Dougherty, sister of the bride, Laura McParlan, a friend of the bride, Paula McDaniel, a friend of the bride, and Jan Dougherty, sister-in-law of the bride, all of Belleville.

They wore pastel pink satin gowns, also in the Southern Belle style, and carried bouquets of pink and white silk flowers.

The flower attendants were Stacie Dougherty, niece of the bride, and Dawn Caron, cousin of the bride, who wore gowns similar to the senior attendants, garlands in their hair and carried baskets filled with silk flowers.

The ringbearer was Brian Beigel, cousin of the bride.

The groom asked Brian Boyle of Westland, a friend, to perform the duties of best man. The groomsmen were Kent Musser, Bob Saraceni, Frank Dougherty Jr., brother of the bride, and Doug Caron, uncle of the bride.

A reception for the newlyweds and their 300 guests was held at the PNA Hall in Belleville. Hall decorations were in the bride's theme of pink and white. The rehearsal dinner was at the groom's parents Westland home.

The new Mrs. Keyandwy is a 1982 graduate of Belleville High School and a 1983 graduate of the State College of Beauty in Wayne. She is employed in Livonia.

Her husband is a 1981 graduate of John Glenn High School in Westland and attended MTA Truck Driving School. He is employed by Holland Freight Express.

Following a wedding trip to the East Coast, the couple moved into their home in Romulus.

She has joined brothers Shawn, 9, and Jeffrey, 3, at home.

Kathern is the newest grandchild of Shirley and Bert Mitchell of Livonia and Marge and Francis Hennesy of Inkster and the newest great-grandchild of Elizabeth Hartwig of Wetmore, Michigan.

Local residents receive honors from State Fair

Pat Boone found his girl at the state fair in a fanciful Hollywood production of the same name, but a group of Western Wayne County residents found fame at Michigan's version of the State Fair.

There were plenty of awards passed out for the standard fare at a state fair, but there even more awards passed out for everything from clowns to the garden exhibits to goat milking to Queen of Old Timer's Day.

Micki Pierce of Garden City was crowned as Queen of Old Timer's Day. She describes herself as a "small town girl who made good in Michigan. She is 75 and has seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Edith Bagby, 80, of Inkster, was honored for having the most grandchildren-40. As for great-grandchildren, she "quit counting after 15."

Twelve-year-old Kathleen Boyle of New Boston was among the winners in the activities for the younger set. She captured first place at the youth goat milking contest in the 9 to 12 years category.

The victorious goat registered 3.75 gallons of milk in a 2-minute period.

Kathleen has been milking goats twice a day for the past five years.

Billie Jean Wood, 10, of Canton Township is hooked on state fair competition after being chosen the overall winner and senior champion in the goat breeding contest.

The youngster had never competed in a goat breeding contest until this year. Her goat was judged for its milking and breeding potential.

Two New Boston youths garnered awards in the youth garden exhibit at the fair.

Natalie Killen, 14, a student at Kenton Junior High School, received a first-place ribbon for her squash, while Wayne Yaeger, 15, a student at Huron Senior High School, placed second in the pumpkin category and second in the individual market basket category.

Ronald Carpenter, 10, of Romulus, received numerous titles in the poultry judging and rooster crowing contest, during the fair.

The youngster's white leghorn hen received the reserved champion title in the bantam category, while he took first place in the exhibition with his rooster crowing 43 times.

He also received first place in the bantam category with his bantam crowing 13 times. His technique was slapping on the pavement and talking to his animals to get the best results.

In the clown competition, James Leach, 7, of Westland took first place in the 6 to 8 years category. His twin brother Clotis, sister Felicia, 8, and brothers Aaron, 3, and Quentin, 2, all earned honorable mentions in the competition. Their parents, Larry and Diane Leach, were present and proud as could be at the judges' decision.

In the adult clown competition Dave Lewis of Westland took first place in the "Tramp" category as Dusty the Clown. The judges' decision were based on costume, makeup and overall effectiveness.

225 job training applicants needed

Extension Job Training (EJT) is accepting applications for 225 openings in two new programs.

Youths 14 to 21 years of age may receive a variety of employment services, including paid work experiences and job placement. Unemployed young people may apply by contacting the 728-JOBS Hotline Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The programs are offered at the Wayne County Extension and Education Center on Venoy Road in Wayne. They are funded by the Wayne County Private Industry Corporation, the Michigan Department of Education and the Cooperative Extension Service. There is no charge for eligible applicants.

Both programs offer a variety of training and placement services, which are tailored to the need of each participant. The length of training may last from several days to several months and is flexible to meet scheduling needs. The primary goal for most of the graduates is job placement in either full-time or part-time jobs.

Training options include paid work experience, employment proficiency, vocational horticulture, on-the-job training and youth assistance modules. Assessment, counseling, employer referral and benefits screening also are available.

The work experience is available for those with a minimal work history. Participants are paid $3.35 per hour to work 16 to 20 per week at the Extension Center. Jobs include ground-keepers and greenhouse technicians, as well as clerical, janitorial, print shop and switchboard aides. Students with other interests or skills may be assigned to other agencies in the community, which offer work experience.

The Youth Assistance Program modules include career planning, motivational training, practical living skills, pre-employment skills and work maturity. Participants in this program may enroll in any of the other services after completing three of the five modules, which usually require approximately one week each.

The employment proficiency training is designed to prepare young people for successful job search. Examples include videotape interview practice, completion and printing of a resume, application techniques and job source access. Training occurs in small groups with a lot of individual attention and opportunities to practice what is learned. Initial telephone contacts are made under the supervision of program staff.

The horticulture training is offered in 16 occupational areas. Examples include greenhouse management, landscaping, pest control and food production. Graduates are prepared for entry-level employment in a variety of related fields. Training also is available for a Michigan Department of Agriculture pesticide applicator's license.

EJT Director Gary Greenwell pointed out, "In the past several years we have had considerable demand from employers for our horticulture graduates. We have never had enough to fill all of the openings. These jobs usually start at $4 to $6 per hour with opportunity for advancement." Greenwell added that employers especially like the fact that the EJT training is experiential. Students practice what they learn on the 26-acre grounds and in the two greenhouses at the center. Professional horticulturists supervise small groups of four to eight trainees.

The on-the-job training component provides opportunities for trainees to be placed into jobs for additional occupational training. The employer pays a wage or salary to the participant who becomes a part of the workforce during a training period. Because EJT subsidizes part of this cost, local businesses are anxious to hire from the program. After training is complete, the graduate is expected to become a regular employee at that business.

Program Manager Cheryl Kirlanoff pointed out that the new programs are designed to make it easy to participate.

"Enrollees who are not involved in paid work experience are eligible to receive a daily transportation subsidy. Our scheduling will make the services available to those who attend school or those who are only available part-time for various reasons."

Extension Job Training also offers an information and referral service for the Wayne County PIC. People of all ages throughout Southeast Michigan may call the 728-JOBS Hotline (728-5627) to learn about employment and training opportunities available in their area.

The Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service is located at 5454 Venoy Road in Wayne. Programs are open to all without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or handicap.

Unique visit

Recent participants in job training programs at the Wayne County Cooperative Extension and Education Center in Wayne were Phillip Boyd (from left) of Belleville, Melanie Rabin of Westland and Gerald Williams of Inkster. The programs are provided through the Wayne County Private Industry Corporation. There currently are 225 openings available in two new programs at the center.

1. Reinstitute the "priority substitute pool" involving approximately 15 teachers who would be called first in return for their being available to us on any given school day.

Raymond Kohr and Larry Tabor, High School Principal, discussed the concern at the High School regarding the amount of foreign exchange students requesting enrollment. They also requested that the Board develop a policy regarding the acceptance of foreign exchange students to be approved in the spring for implementation during the 1986-87 school year. A total expenditure in 1985-86 of $31,585.41 for the high school computer program which will provide a second computer lab with 15 microcomputers and will upgrade the existing lab with 15 machines. The second lab will make it possible to implement a one semester graduation requirement in computer education.

2. A total expenditure in 1985-86 of $30,771.25 for the middle schools computer program which will provide 15 microcomputers in each lab environment in each middle school.

Motion by Richard Muse, supported by Robert Cook, to approve the high school computer recommendation as presented. Motion carried unanimously.

Recommendation was presented to have the district's Head Start youngsters serviced in the Romulus program at their school located on Hannan Road. The modern age allows few hours to spend in the kitchen. My cookbook shelves are stocked (as I know yours are, too) with recipes for Cordon Bleu, calling for 12 to 15 different ingredients, followed by a harrowing set of directions. No wonder "gourmet cookery" is solely reserved for company occasions!

Visited a garage sale last week in Wayne on my return visit to the Associated Newspapers offices where about eight of my peers and I had just judged the "best pizza" contest.

While rummaging through some old housewares and trying to negotiate on an old porcelain juice squeezer like grandma used to have, I came across "The Keep It Short and Sweet Cookbook" by Ruth Brent (pub: Holt, Rinehart and Wilson, 1972) I couldn't pass up the 25-cent bargain.

Now, anyone who knows me understands how much emphasis I place on trying to keep all of my recipes "short and simple." Nothing scares me more than attempting a recipe that transfers bowls, beats, folds, refrigerates until cool and then gets beaten until stiff, but not dry. (Even with all my experience and expertise, 95 percent of my cooking is fast, easy and simple. The recipe I ran last week for Tarragon Chicken had four ingredients, the likes of which could have been duplicated in a fancy restaurant for about $9. My cost? $6 to feed four (including a new bottle of Tarragon and a rice accompaniment).

Not trying to sound persnickety, but Chef Paul Prudhommes' "Cajun Cookbook" recently crossed my kitchen counter. The recipe for Cajun Shrimps jumped out at me and the entire process, just to make the sauce (blackened hot pepper sauce) took 20 minutes! That didn't include the preparation of the shrimps, rice or vegetable! Entire process - 1 hour 22 minutes. Of course, the recipe was exotic, very ethnic and really tasty (gee, I wish I could have said that about some of the pizzas I tasted last week!) But while enjoying the dish with friends, one of them asked If I felt the preparation time was a bit overextended (for the taste of the dish). In my opinion? Certainly!

This week, you will notice some great recipes, but I have adjusted them to be short and simple. If your cookbook shelves have some great short and simple recipes, I would appreciate you sharing them with us.

One of the best ideas I can share with you this week, however, is my opportunity to locate the best pizza. After trying nine different shops, the Pizza Barn in Romulus emerged like the North Star over Metro Airport. After the contest, I thought it would be a great test to see just how good the Pizza Barn's pizza really was. After all, they knew it would be judged with other pizzas. Did they "doctor it up?" We tried the pizza on the Sunday after the judging, and I'm proud to say that once again, it passed with flying colors. Okay, Pizza Barn (by the way, where did you get the name?), you won in the western subs, try to beat Louie's Pizza (on Dequindre, just north of 9 mile). Visited Hazel Park Raceway with a friend and was treated to something that might even beat out the Pizza Barn. Where's your favorite?

HERBED PARTY PUFFS (makes 32)

1 package dry onion soup mix

Separate biscuits, cut into fours. Melt butter or margarine in a skillet. When melted, stir in onion soup mix. Mix well. Add cut biscuits, stir to coat. Place on an ungreased baking sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes.

BAKED NOODLES ROMANOFF (easily serves 6)

8 ounces medium egg noodles (dry)
1 cup sour cream
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup parmesan cheese, grated

Cook noodles as per package directions. Drain. Rinse well under cold water. Combine remaining ingredients, mix well. Pour into a greased 2 quart baking dish. Bake at 350 for 30-40 minutes.
(For the weight conscious, use plain yogurt for sour cream.)

GRANOLA CRUNCH (the kids love it . . .)

1 (16 oz.) box any type granola cereal (with or without nuts)
1 (12 oz.) package chocolate chips
1/2 cup coconut

Melt chocolate chips on top of a double broiler or use microwave, being careful not to scorch. Stir in dry cereal and coconut and mix well. Spread out on greased baking sheet or drop by spoonfuls into paper cupcake liners. Chill in freezer for 30 minutes.
